EDITOR: Jojo – Cinema Rulez!

I like movies and I go very often to see some shit. But what I hate are people who are talking while the film is running and I can't hear nothing but their fucking raised up mouths.

The next one are those one who are eating popcorn and drinking something behind my back. I hate it some much. I could take the popcorn from these bitches asses and pull all out in their mother fucking faces so they couldn't breathe anymore. Why are people eating during the film, everybody can it and drink at home before the film runs. But no, they have to do shit while they are watching it.

Fuck you all. It should be not allowed to eat and drink it the cinema but but but there are the mother fucking money rulez.

One day I was watching a Batman film with my girlfriend. We were sitting in the last bench in the cinema so we could see the whole screen very well. On the right from us were a few stupid assfuckzzz. They are sitting there and they are eating, talking and laughing about a shit. But it was no problem till the ads are going.

BuT! When the film starts they haven't stopped doing it and I was fucking angry after few minutes, my girlfriend was also pissed off! So I've rise up and have started to ask these fuckers "what's up"? They was very confused, because they was together and they have not expected, that anyone can tell a WORD NIA! So they have started to argue with me and I was already pissed off. They said to me that I'm so brave like the Batman on the film, the next think that I have done in my anger was:

I have taken his coke can and have trowed it in his motherfucking face, this shitface was so angry an his colleagues couldn't believe what already has happened, hehe, he was quit aloud so the other viewers have said, that they should shot their fucked uped mouths! It was so funny I have to go one more time to da cinema!
