EDITOR: Master – The button!

Don't push it if you don't want to stop the whole internet!
You're thinking now what the fuck!

Yes wtf!

Would you like to have such a button to stop the whole internet world, if you were very angry?

Act just like a president with the red telephone – one call and it's all fucked up.

But you don't have your own airplane to escape or someplace very deep under the earth to hide, where nobody could found you.

But

Think a little bit, if you would stop the entire server on the world – nobody will be able to use the internet and the VoIP telephony. Nobody will be able to play online games like the world of warshit or watching the porn sites lol. It would be a big tragedy for all the world!

The bank transactions could not be accomplished – wow a lot of shit will be happened even the TV connection via cable would be death. a lot of fucking shit, really!

What else would the people do without the internet? They maybe would start living and meeting their friends in the real world...

So, now imagine that we will give you the ability to stop the internet with just pressing a button!

Would you take the opportunity so just for fun and would you do this? You know that the fuckdas team has the connections to give you such a button? You know why? It's because we're the best on the world and we are don't giving a fuck about all the shit that happens in the motherfucking world of shame!

Think about one thing, your IP address would be listed in some server's logs, but shit on it. Show us, that you have the big eggs to do this – if you are a woman you will get the eggs doing this.

So now – Do you want to play the game and press the button? - Try 3 times to see what happens.
